

We owe much to our veterans for their sacrifices, and on this Veterans Day I want to recognize them for their dedication to our nation. This Congress has taken important strides on behalf of our past and present service members, from expanding funding for veterans education and medical benefits to providing compensation for the hardship of stop-loss orders. To learn more, visit my veterans's e-newsletter .